PREFACE

THE glorious achievements of the Thirty-second Division will not perish with the fleeting publicity given them by the periodical press, nor with the memories of those who comprise this valorous division. They will live forever, for they have been set down in general orders and are a part of permanent army records.

Herewith are published some of the commendations and citations bestowed upon this valorous division of Wisconsin and Michigan volunteers. Included are also commendations received by the Fifty-seventh Field Artillery Brigade which, as part of the division, supported its infantry in every campaign, besides supporting 18 other divisions.

Members of the Thirty-second Division have reason to be proud. Let the following official orders speak for their deeds.

HEADQUARTERS THIRTY-SECOND DIVISION
AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

October 8, 1918.

MEMORANDUM:

1. The following letter from Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt has been received by the Division Commander and is published for the information of all concerned:

THE KANSAS CITY STAR

Office of
THEODORE ROOSEVELT

New York Office
347 Madison Avenue
September 13, 1918.

My dear General Haan:

I am very much touched indeed by the trouble you have taken in the middle of your absorbing work. I appreciate your letter, I appreciate the sketch of Quentin's grave. It was dreadful to have Quentin killed, but I would not for anything in the world have had him not face death and take his chance.

I most heartily congratulate you, my dear sir, on the great work of your division. By George, your men have hit hard. Will you thank the division for me? We look forward eagerly to seeing you at Sagamore Hill, when you return. My dear General, I admire, and I fear I envy, your record.

Faithfully yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Maj. General W. G. Haan,
32nd Division,
A. E. F., France.

2. The foregoing letter of thanks was received from Colonel Roosevelt in reply to a letter General Haan sent him with map showing location of his son's grave after the enemy had been defeated on that ground by the 32nd Division.

BULLETIN
No. 93

The following General Order G. H. Q. American E. F., current series, is published for the information of all concerned in this division.

"G. H. Q." AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

General Orders
No. 143.

France, August 28, 1918.

It fills me with pride to record in General Orders a tribute to the service and achievements of the First and Third Corps, comprising the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 26th, 32nd and 42nd Divisions of the American Expeditionary Forces.

You came to the battlefield at the crucial hour of the Allied cause. For almost four years the most formidable army the world had as yet seen had pressed its invasion of France, and stood threatening its capitol. At no time had that army been more powerful or menacing than when, on July 15th, it struck again to destroy in one great battle the brave men opposed to it and to enforce its brutal will upon the world and civilization.

Three days later, in conjunction with our allies, you counter-attacked. The Allied Armies gained a brilliant victory that marks the turning point of the war. You did more than give our brave Allies the support to which as a nation our faith was pledged. You proved that our altruism, our pacific spirit, our sense of justice have not blunted our virility or our courage. You have shown that American initiative and energy are as fit for the test of war as for the pursuits of peace. You have justly won the unstinted praise of our Allies and the eternal gratitude of our countrymen.

We have paid for our success in the lives of many of our brave comrades. We shall cherish their memory always, and claim for our history and literature their bravery, achievement and sacrifice.

This order will be read to all organizations at the first assembly after its receipt.

JOHN J. PERSHING,
General, Commander in Chief.

G. H. Q. AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

General Orders
No. 232.

France, Dec. 19, 1918.

It is with a sense of gratitude for its splendid accomplishment, which will live through all history, that I record in General Orders a tribute to the victory of the First Army in the Meuse-Argonne battle.

Tested and strengthened by the reduction of the St. Mihiel salient, for more than six weeks you battered against the pivot of the enemy line on the western front. It was a position of imposing natural strength, stretching on both sides of the Meuse river from the bitterly contested hills of Verdun to the almost impenetrable forest of the Argonne; a position, moreover, fortified by four years of labor designed to render it impregnable; a position held with the fullest resources of the enemy. That position you broke utterly, and thereby hastened the collapse of the enemy's military power.

Soldiers of all the divisions engaged under the First, Third and Fifth American Corps and the Second Colonial and Seventeenth French Corps—the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 26th, 28th, 29th, 32nd, 33rd, 35th, 37th, 42nd, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st 82nd, 89th, 90th and 91st American Divisions, the 18th and 26th French divisions, and the 10th and 15th Colonial divisions—you will be long remembered for the stubborn persistence of your progress, your storming of obstinately defended machine gun nests, your penetration, yard by yard, of woods and ravines, your heroic resistance in the face of counter-attacks supported by powerful artillery fire. For more than a month, from the initial attack of September 26th, you fought your way slowly through the Argonne, through the woods and over hills west of the Meuse. You slowly enlarged your hold on the Cotes de Meuse to the east, and then, on the 1st of November, your attack forced the enemy into flight. Pressing his retreat, you cleared the entire left bank of the Meuse south of Sedan, and then stormed the heights on the right bank and drove him into the plain beyond.

Soldiers of all army and corps troops engaged—to you no less credit is due; your steadfast adherence to duty and your dogged determination in the face of all obstacles made possible the heroic deeds cited above.

The achievement of the First Army which is scarcely to be equalled in American history, must remain a source of proud satisfaction to the troops who participated in the last campaign of the war. The American people will remember it as the realization of the hitherto potential strength of the American contribution toward the cause to which they had sworn allegiance. There can be no greater reward for a soldier or for a soldier's memory.

This order will be read to all organizations at the first assembly formation after its receipt.

JOHN J. PERSHING,
General, Commander in Chief,
American Expeditionary Forces.

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH ARMY CORPS, AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

France, October 22, 1918.

From:—Chief of Staff, V Army Corps,
To:—Commanding General, 32d Division.
Subject:—Commendation.

"The recent long service of the 32d Division in the front line of the 5th Army Corps has been characterized by such a fine example of soldierly effort that the Corps Commander commends you and your Soldiers and Officers for it.

"Under extremely difficult circumstances, and over a rough, hilly, and wooded terrain, the DIVISION broke through the enemy's strong lines (Kriemhilde Stellung), and reached and took its objectives.

"This effort and the result accomplished speak for themselves, but that you and your men may know that the Corps Commander appreciates their exertion, and acknowledges their success, he thanks each one.

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH ARMY CORPS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

France, November 2 ,1918.

From:—Commanding General, V Army Corps.
To:—Brigadier General D. E. Aultman, Chief of Artillery, V Army Corps.
Subject:—Commendation.

I desire to convey to you and to the Officers and soldiers of all Artillery serving in this Corps, my profound appreciation and my high admiration of the brilliant manner in which the Artillery of all classes has performed the difficult tasks allotted to it, especially during the advance on November First.

Although the Artillery has been constantly in action day and night, sustaining the battle since the beginning of the present offensive, it has responded with self-sacrificing devotion to duty and a superb efficiency that is beyond all praise. While our dauntless Infantry have advanced against the enemy's prepared positions with a courage that elicits our greatest admiration, it must be recognized that without the powerful and skilful co-operation of the Artillery, it would have been impossible to accomplish the results which they have so brilliantly achieved.

The tremendous volume of fire, the skilful arrangement of all objectives, and the perfect coordination with the Infantry and machine guns, have made the action of November first a model of completeness, and it must stand as a tribute to the able administrative officers who conceived the plans, and to the technical ability and the fidelity to duty of those who executed them.

I beg that you will convey to the Officers and Soldiers of all units of Artillery, the foregoing sentiments, and will assure them of my abiding wishes for their continued success in the campaigns that lie before them.

From:—Commanding General, V Army Corps.
To:—Commanding General, 57th Field Artillery Brigade, (Through Commanding General, 32nd Division.)
Subject:—Commendation.

1. I desire to commend the officers and soldiers of the 57th Field Artillery Brigade for the conspicuous devotion to duty, the highly efficient service, and the successful operations of the Brigade during its retention in this Corps after the relief of the 32nd Division.

2. On account of the shortage of artillery it became necessary to continue this Brigade actively in the front, and the response of the personnel has been such as to increase the admiration which it already enjoys. This Brigade has shown itself worthy of the excellent Division to which it belongs, and with such troops our future success is assured.

To:—The Commanding General, 57th F. A. Brigade.

Subject:—Commendation.

I transmit herewith, letter of commendation from the Corps Commander regarding the action of the Artillery in the operations of November 1st.

In transmitting this letter I desire to add my own thanks and appreciation to you and to the officers and men of your Brigade for the hearty cooperation that has resulted in such a brilliant success.

To have enabled our infantry to advance in one day over a distance of 9 kilometers with small loss, capturing over 100 guns, 200 machine guns, and more than 2,000 prisoners, is an achievement of which the Artillery may well be proud, and I congratulate your entire command on having so well performed its share in the operation.

I desire that the contents of the letter of the Corps Commander be made known to the officers and men of your command, as well as my own appreciation of their splendid conduct.

General Orders. April 18, 1919.
No. 7.
1. The following letter of commendation from the Commanding General, Ninth Corps, is published for the information of the command:

HEADQUARTERS NINTH ARMY CORPS, AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, A. P. O. 932

France, April 10, 1919.

From:—Major General C. P. Summerall, Commanding Ninth Army Corps, American E. F.

To:—Commanding General, 57th Field Artillery Brigade, (Through Commanding General, 88th Division).

Subject:—Appreciation of service.

1. Upon the relief of the 57th Field Artillery Brigade from the 9th Army Corps, in compliance with orders from higher authority, the Corps Commander desires to convey to the officers and soldiers of this Brigade his appreciation and commendation of the services rendered by the command, not only during its presence with the Corps, but throughout its participation in the campaign of the American Expeditionary Forces. The review of this Brigade for the Corps Commander, which was held on April 7th, presented an excellent appearance and gave abundant testimony of the high morale and soldierly spirit that now animates the command.

2. The Brigade is composed of the 119th, 120th, 121st and 147th Field Artillery Regiments. The records show that the Brigade arrived in France during March 1918, and trained at Camp Coetquidan. Firing batteries from this Brigade were furnished to the Artillery Training Camps at Saumur and at Montigny-sur-Aube during the succeeding year. The 119th and 147th Regiments served in the Toul sector from June 5th to June 22nd, 1918, in support of the 26th Division. The entire Brigade served in the Haute Alsace sector from June 12th to July 22nd, supporting the 32nd Division. It participated in the Aisne-Marne Offensive from August 1st to August 25th, supporting the 32nd, the 28th, and the 77th Divisions, and advanced against resistance twenty kilometers. Without rest, it made a forced march to the Oise-Aisne Offensive and supported the 32nd American Division and the First Moroccan Division ,from August 28 to September 6th. It participated in the capture of Juvigny and Terny-Sorny, advancing eight kilometers. After five days rest at Wassy, the Brigade marched to the Meuse-Argonne Offensive where it supported the 79th, the 3rd, the 32nd, and the 89th Divisions, serving continuously, without relief, from September 26th to November 8th. During this period, it advanced 26 kilometers and suffered severely from the campaign. It was then withdrawn to a rest area, where it served with the 40th Division at Revigny, and later with the 88th Division in the Gondrecourt area.

3. Not only has the Brigade performed its full share of duty in the 32nd Division, to which it originally belonged, but it has contributed by its efforts and its sacrifices to the success of other Divisions of the American Army. The work of the training batteries at the centers for artillery instruction has been no less valuable in contributing to the success of our arms than that of the batteries engaged in combat, and they are entitled to a full share of the credit which is due the command.

4. Every officer and soldier may well cherish with pride the privilege of having participated in the momentous events of the campaigns with this Brigade, and its history will be a lasting inheritance to the Army of the American people. The good wishes and the abiding interest of the Corps Commander will remain with the members of the brigade in their future careers.

(Signed) C. P. SUMMERALL,
By command of Brigadier General Irwin.

France, August 7, 1918.

EXTRACT

In the first serious encounter of this Division with the enemy in offensive operations in open warfare, the work and conduct of the Division has been eminently satisfactory. In a campaign of eight days, during which there has been constant fighting or pursuit, the endurance of the men has been put to a severe strain. At no time during this period was there an indication of the lowering of the high spirit with which the Division started. The Division occupied the entire front of the Corps sector and during the eight days threw the enemy back more than eighteen kilometers capturing in the neighborhood of 100 prisoners, 2 cannon and many more machine guns, together with immense quantities of ammunition and other war supplies. The Division has a considerable number of casualties, but we have actually buried more of the enemy dead than our own total number in killed. This shows that the men have appreciated and understood the training in offensive spirit and war of movement that it was the policy to convey to them during the brief period of training in France.

The two strong positions captured in the first three days of the campaign were the center of resistance of the enemy's main line of the Ourcq, where a determined stand was made in order to permit him to withdraw as much of his war supplies between that river and the Vesle as possible. When these points were captured the entire line rapidly retired. The conduct of the men in capturing these two places was magnificent. The positions fell only after hard fighting which required courage, endurance and skill.

EXTRACT

1. In the task accomplished by the 32nd Division with the Tenth French Army, the Division has again demonstrated its fighting qualities and has shown more than in its previous operations the results of scientific training, resulting in more perfect team-work. I have never doubted the courage of the men in the Division, but I have wondered occasionally whether our training has been sufficiently complete to establish proper team-work between all its elements. This team-work in the recent operations worked immeasurably better than in the second battle of the Marne. There was much less straggling and the Division Surgeon has reported offcially from the hospitals and dressing stations that, among the sick and wounded, there were no quitters.

The fighting spirit of the Division is as fine, if not better, than ever. The French Corps Commander and the French Army Commander have expressed their admiration of the work accomplished and the spirit in which it was done. To this I desire to add my congratulations to every man in the Division. You had before you the very best of German troops, sent here fresh to hold the lines at all cost. These lines you succeeded in piercing and at every point where you were ordered to go ahead you not only succeeded in going ahead but during your brief period you have succeeded in capturing from the enemy's best troops 934 prisoners, 12 of whom are officers. You have made a record of which all the members of this Division will ever be proud and which will cheer our folks at home.

No. 96.

1. In its third effort in battle, the Thirty-Second Division broke through the famous Kriemhilde line, the last organized line of the enemy's defense on this front.

2. During the nineteen days of almost continuous battle, not a day passed without some progress being made, and during this period a total advance of eight kilometers was accomplished. This in itself does not seem a great distance, but when it is considered that this progress was made through a well organized position of great natural strength, and a key of that position, it is a task accomplished of which the Division can and should feel proud.

3. The actual penetration of the famous KRIEMHILDE line was perhaps less difficult than the long approach to the wire of that position upon ground where the Division had to first work down a slope and then up another slope for from three to four kilometers where it was constantly under observation and under artillery and machine gun fire. The excellent maneuvering of subordinate commanders, supported by the artillery, machine guns, stokes mortars, one-pounders, and all other auxilliary weapons all working together, permitted the accomplishment of our mission and the attaining of our objectives with a minimum of loss. The Corps Commander and the Commander in Chief have expressed to me personally their satisfaction at what the Division has accomplished and I desire to add my hearty congratulations to all officers and men, one and all of whom have shown under the most difficult circumstances a spirit that never faltered under the most trying conditions.

1. It is with sincere pleasure that the Division Commander publishes to the command the following letter from the Commander-in-Chief:

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES
Office of the Commander-in-Chief

France, March 24, 1919.

Major General William Lassiter,
Commanding 32d Division,
American E. F.

My dear General Lassiter:

Please extend to the officers and men of the 32d Division my sincere compliments upon their appearance and upon the splendid condition of the artillery and transportation at the review and inspection on March 15th. In fact, the condition of your command was what would be expected of a division with such a splendid fighting record.

After training for several months following its arrival in February, 1918, it entered the line in Alsace and held this sector until the time of the Aisne-Marne offensive, when it moved to that active front. On July 30th, it entered the line on the Ourcq, and in the course of its action captured Cierges, Bellevue Farm and the Bois de la Planchette. The attack was resumed on August 1st, the division pushing ahead until it crossed the Vesle, and captured the town of Fismes. On August 28th it again entered the line and launched attacks which resulted in the capture of Juvigny at the cost of severe casualties. During the Meuse-Argonne offensive the 32d Division entered the line on September 30th and by its persistence in that sector it penetrated the Kreimhilde Stellung, taking Romagne and following the enemy to the northeastern edge of the Bois de Bantheville. On November 8th, the division took up the pursuit of the enemy east of the Meuse until the time when hostilities were suspended.

Since the signing of the Armistice the 32d Division has had the honor to act as a part of the Army of Occupation. For the way in which all ranks have performed their duties in this capacity, I have only the warmest praise and approval. The pride of your officers and men, justified by such a record, will insure the same high morale which has been present in the division during its stay in France. I want each man to know my appreciation of the work he has done and of the admiration in which he is held by the rest of his comrades in the American Expeditionary Forces.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JOHN J. PERSHING.

ORDRE GENERAL NO. 318

Au Q. G. A. July 30, 1918.

Officers, Non Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of the 3rd United States Army Corps.

Shoulder to shoulder with your French comrades you were thrown into the counter offensive battle which commenced on the 18th of July.

You rushed into the fight as though to a fete.

Your magnificent courage completely routed a surprised enemy and your indomitable tenacity checked the counter-offensive of his fresh Divisions.

You have shown yourselves worthy Sons of your Great Country and you were admired by your brothers in arms.

91 Guns, 7,200 prisoners, immense booty, 10 kilometers of country reconquered; this is your portion of the spoil of this victory.

Furthermore, you have really felt your superiority over the barbarous enemy of the whole human race, against whom the children of Liberty are.

To attack him is to vanquish him.

American Comrade I am grateful to you for the blood so generously spilled on the soil of my Country.

I am proud to have commanded you during such days and to have fought with you for the deliverance of the world.

France, August 13, 1918.

General Orders.
No. 9.
The following general orders received from Commanding Generals (French) are published for the information of all concerned in this.

July 25, 1918.

(a) GENERAL ORDER NO. 5, 40th ARMY CORPS FRENCH

At the time when the 32nd U. S. Division leaves the zone of Haute-Alsace, the General commanding the 40th Army Corps wishes to express to the Commanding General of the Division and to his troops, the great satisfaction he has experienced in having them under his command.

By the courage, the excellent spirit, the perfect bearing, the zeal to gain knowledge, of which they have given proof in all circumstances, these troops, under the command of General Haan, have shown all that can be expected of them.

The 32nd U. S. Division leaves for coming battles, and our best wishes go with them. The General, the Officers and the men know that they are taking with them the affection and the esteem of the French troops in the zone, with whom they have collaborated in a spirit of such cordial comradeship and the gratitude of the populations of Alsace, whom together with their brothers in arms, they will contribute to return definitely to their country.

GENERAL PAULINIER,
Commanding the 40th A. C.

(b) GENERAL ORDER 6th ARMY FRENCH

August 9, 1918.

Before the great offensive of the 18th of July, the American troops, forming a part of the 6th French Army, distinguished themselves by taking from the enemy the Bois De La Brigade De Marine and the village of Vaux and by checking his offensive on the Marne and at Fossey.

Since that time they have played a most glorious part in the Second Battle of the Marne, rivaling the French troops in spirit and valor. They have in twenty days of incessant fighting, liberated numerous French villages and have accomplished across a difficult country an advance of 40 kilometers which has carried them beyond the Vesle.

Their glorious advances are marked by names which will in the future illumine the military history of the United States, Torcy, Belleau, Plateau d' Etrepilly, Epieds, le Charmel, the Ourcq, Seringes et Nesles, Sergy, The Vesle and Fismes.

New divisions which faced fire for the first time showed themselves worthy of the best military traditions of the Regular Army.

They had the same ardent wish to defeat the Boche and that quality of discipline which makes it possible for the orders given by the Chief to be always executed no matter what the difficulties to overcome may be and the sacrifices to be paid.

The magnificent results attained are due to the energy and skill of the Chiefs and to the gallantry of the soldiers.

I am proud to have commanded such troops.

The General Commanding the 6th Army,

DEGOUTTE.

(c) ORDER 38th ARMY CORPS FRENCH

August 1918.

The time having now come for him to hand over the zone of battle to General Bullard commanding the 3rd Corps, American E. F., General De Mondesir commanding the 38th French Corps addresses all his thanks to the splendid troops of the 28th and 32nd American Divisions who have proved during the pursuit which is still being continued not only their courage but also their staying qualities.

The casualties, the toils and hardships due to the difficulties of bringing up rations during the marching and fighting of this period were unable to break their high morale, their go and their warlike spirit.

General De Mondesir is proud to have had the opportunity to command them. He hopes that the day will come when he will have them next to him as comrades in our common fight.

The General Commanding the 38th Army Corps,
L. DE MONDESIR.
By Command of Major General Haan.

HEADQUARTERS THIRTY-SECOND DIVISION AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

August 16, 1918.

General Order
No. 81

The following communication from the sixth Army French information Section G. Q. G. August 9, 1918, is published for the information of all concerned in this Division.

NOTE REGARDING THE MARCH OF AN AMERICAN DIVISION OF FISMES

Forced to beat a general retreat after our counter offensive of the 18th July the Germans have tried to make a stand at the Ourcq, and on the heights which overlooked the river, have withheld some furious fights. However under the repeated blows of our Allies, they were obliged to give way, and then, beginning on July 30th the enemy commenced a falling back movement in the direction of the Vesle. Definitely thrown back from the heights of Seringes, and from Hill 230 Northeast of Sergy, they were subjected to an energetic push on the part of American elements, fresh and in high spirits and ready to descend the slopes of Roncheres while the French on their right were advancing through the Meuniere Woods.

It is the action of the American Division, which marched from Roncheres to Fismes, progressing almost parallel with the road marked out by Coulonges, Cohan, The Longueville Farm, St. Gilles, that we are following from July 30th, date of its debut in the Sector—until August 5th when it entered Fismes.

It is interesting to note that in this Division were included regiments composed in majority of men originating from Wisconsin. This means that among them were large numbers of German-Americans, who, by giving their blood for the United States gloriously affirmed their loyalty.

On the 30th, they began their operations in the fighting sector by attacking Grimpettes Woods, after a short artillery preparation and they attained the Southeastern point of the woods. But the Germans were determined not to let go without a stubborn resistance. They soon counter-attacked and pushed back the Americans' advanced elements. The fighting became extremely close, and some hand-to-hand fighting followed.

It was not until the morrow, 31st, that the entire woods fell to the hands of the Americans. The machine gun nests which interdicted their march on Cierges had been smashed or reduced, the way was clear. Now installed in the Jomblets Woods, the enemy by his well fed fires, was trying to retard the advance of the Americans.

Cierges is situated in a hollow. Therefore the Germans after evacuating the village under a strong pressure were showering it with gas shells. However the Americans did not stop in Cierges. They passed this unfavorable position and by a single rush they climbed up the inclines North of the village. Then after a short pause, they partly cleared the Jomblets Woods. In the mean time the French were advancing on the right, and debouched from the Meuniere Woods, which they had thoroughly cleaned up.

On the 1st of August the Americans had a new series of obstacles to overcome, the most important of which were Reddy Farm, and Hill 230. In the course of the first engagements, they had already shown a keen sense of the infantry maneuver, seeking the tactical means the most sure to attain their objective and giving proof of precious qualities of initiative and imagination. Add to this the fact that they used with skill the machine-guns, the automatic rifles, the light mortars of accompaniment. This is why they mastered the German defenses once again.

Hill 230 was taken in a superb manner and prisoners were added to the tally.

From then on, the enemy fled and opposed but feeble rear-guards to the advance of the Americans. The latter just swept them on their way and took CHAMBERY, LE MONCEL, VILLOME, COHAN, without great difficulty. At COHAN the Germans hung on for several hours, but were forced to give up toward the end of the day, the Americans having reached the heights North of DRAVEGNY. Consequently a progress of 6 to 8 Kilometers had been effected during that day of the 2nd of August. For 2 hours the infantry had been engaged in uninterrupted fighting, in spite of the difficulty of bringing up rations and supplies there being but a single narrow road which could be used by the convoys the heavy rains having rendered the roads very bad.

In spite of the fatigue and privations of the leading units, the pursuit of the Germans was taken up again at day-break, on August 3rd. Easily enough the line which passes through LES BOULEAUX was reached. But then the enemy turned around and faced the Americans with numerous machine-gun sections and a powerful artillery, which showered the villages of the valley, the crossroads, the ravines.

It became necessary to proceed with a methodical rolling back of the enemy, and maneuver around his strong points, which permitted the Americans to reach the slopes North of MONT SAINT MARTIN and of ST. GILLES. The Division had therefore added to its gains, seven kilometers in depth.

A last and supreme effort was to bring it to FISMES and the VESLE River.

On the 4th of August, the infantry combats opened with unheard of bitterness. The outskirts of FISMES were strongly held by the Germans whose advanced groups were very hard to take. The Americans perservered in their endeavors to reduce them with their light mortars and a few thirty-seven millimeter guns, and they succeeded not without trouble, toward the end of the day, and thanks to this slow and tenacious pressure, they were at one kilometer of FISMES, masters of VILLES VOYE and of the CHAZELLE Farm.

During the whole night the rain impeded their movements, and rendered harder their task for the next day.

On the right by similar jumps, the French had conquered the series of woods and undulations of the MEUNIERE Woods east of ST. GILLES and were then on the plateau of the BONNEMAISON Farm.

On the left another American unit had succeeded in reaching VESLE to the east of SAINT THIRANE.

On August 5th the artillery prepared the attack on FISMES by a well regulated bombardment and the final assault was launched. The Americans penetrated to the city and then began the very hard task of reducing the last remaining "isles" of resistance. Evening saw the task nearly accomplished. We held the entire Southern part of the city as far as the REIMS road and patrols were searching the Northern part of the city. A few patrols even succeeded in crossing the VESLES but they only made a simple reconnaissance, the Germans then occupying very strongly the right bank of the river. There then remained nothing but the complete cleaning up of FISMES and fortifying ourselves therein, against an offensive return of the enemy.

Such was the march of an American Division, which having started from Roncheres on the 30th of July and having victoriously covered 18 kilometers crowned its success by the taking of FISMES.
