December 25, 1924.

Battle of 1924.

Place: Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

Time: 12:30 p. m.

Battery A. 8th Field Artillery, and Headquarters Battery, 11th Field Artillery Brigade, under the command of Lt. Ernest A. Bixby and Lt. George S. Price, attacked ROAST TURKEY and ROAST PORK, whose position was in the OLIVE Forest and well fortified by CANDIED YAMS and SNOWFLAKE POTATOES.

GIBLET GRAVY retreated under camouflage of a heavy screen of CELERY and CREAMED LETTUCE, while General PARKERHOUSE ROLLS up with his heavy artillery through the field of SCALLOPED CORN, under the command of General MIXED NUTS, and General MIXED CANDY put up a breastworks of COCONUT and FRUIT CAKES. A misunderstanding on the part of Capt. COCOA, and the smoke screen of CIGARS and CIGARETTES put Capt. ORANGE PUNCH'S Battery in a SWEET PICKLE MIX. The OYSTER CRACKER was also in the SOUP, as it was impossible to use APPLES and ORANGES, and was forced to use GRAPES.

Batteries CRANBERRY and APPLE were made SAUCE of and were sent back to the OYSTER and RAISIN DRESSING station. With the aid of ICE CREAM, MINCE MEAT and COCONUT PIE, the batteries managed to get through the very badly congested roads.

The victorious armies marched back in the afternoon to their own lines, very sick but happy.
